Strike in Germany.

Collision Between the Miners and the Military.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED.

The Exact Number Cannot Be Ascertained — Emperor William Inquiring Into the Trouble — Over a Hundred Thousand of the Strikers—Other Foreign Dispatches.

BERLIN, May 14.—The troubles between the military and striking miners of Westphalia are increasing. A collision occurred Monday between them at Castrop in which a body composed of dragoons and lancers charged upon the strikers and dispersed them. All last night there was random firing in the vicinity of Lünen. Most of the taverns in the disturbed district are closed.

The Mülheim and Dinslberg miners have joined the strike. At Schleswig the rioters formed into two bodies behind a railroad embankment. After three demands on them to disperse Sunday the soldiers fired upon them, killing six persons, including one child, and wounded a woman. The crowd had made no attack upon the troops.

The Essen miners decided to cease work in forty-two collieries Monday. The mine owners at a meeting attended by government officials, resolved to raise wages, but not concede eight hours as a day's labor.

The excitement grows apace, and the strikers manifest great boldness and contempt for the soldiery, using exasperating epithets, as if intentionally to provoke them to become the aggressors and so arouse public sympathy for the strikers. The excitement in the Dortmund district is intense, and the dealers of the district, on account of the scarcity, have sold out at the high figure of $4.47 per ton.

A gigantic mass meeting was to have been held at Gelsenkirchen Sunday, but was prohibited by the government. It is impossible to tell how many have been killed already in the various encounters with troops, as the dead bodies have been immediately removed by friends and secreted.

The strike committee at Dortmund, composed of Bante, Schroeder and Siegel, has issued a manifesto in which they declare that the strikers will not resume work until the fullest concession to their demands is made.

The Kaiser will receive deputations of the striking miners of Westphalia, as delegates representing 100,000 strikers. The strikers assembled in force yesterday morning and prevented the opening of the Althaus and Sprockhoevel pits. They were charged upon by the lancers and dispersed. A large number of them were arrested.

A brother of Hermes, who was killed in the riot at Schleswig, became insane at hearing of his brother's death, and this morning attacked a friend named Bleeber with a hatchet, and killed him.

The coal miners of Waldenburg, Silesia, have joined the Westphalia strikers.

Sixty miners who had struck from the prince regent's colliery at Borehm, repented of their action yesterday and resolved to resume work. They were prevented by those still warring against the masters, and surrounded by a howling and cursing mob. The military subsequently arrived, and a conflict between them and the infuriated strikers is certain.

The Essen weavers have struck. There are now 90,000 men in the strikers' ranks.

Noblemen in the Police Court.

LONDON, May 14.—The Earl of Dudley, Lord Lurgan and Paulet, Baron Ferraro and a number of other gentlemen, all of whom were arrested at the Field club and released on bail, were arraigned at the Vine street police court to answer the charge of gambling. The court was crowded almost to suffocation with people anxious to see the noblemen arraigned as criminals. The Earl of Dudley appeared to be heartily ashamed of himself and eager to escape the notice of the throng, submitted to a fine but Lord Lurgan was defiant and angry at his arrest. The police officers who made the raid of the club admitted that the noblemen were not members of the Field club but declared that they resorted to various clubs for the purpose of gambling. The prisoners, twenty in number, were remanded for a week on bail.

Scheme of the Old People.

LONDON, May 14.—It is stated that the police raids on the Adelphi and Field clubs were prompted by the father of one and the mother of another of the persons arrested, with a view to enabling the latter to escape the payment of their gambling debts.

Fight Over Disputed Land.

BERLIN, May 14.—A serious affray occurred at Ebersheim yesterday, arising out of the disputed claims to the occupation of private lands. The military were called out to disperse the angry villagers, but were unable to do so without firing upon them. Seven persons were killed.

Evictions Postponed.

DUBLIN, May 14.—The evictions which it was proposed to enforce at Glasserhos to-day have been postponed. It is stated that the government is strongly urging the Opherts to submit their difficulties with the tenants to arbitration.

The Czar Creates a New Minister.

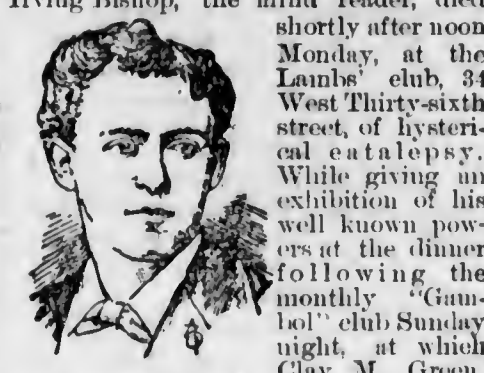

ST. PETERSBURG, May 14.—The czar has decided to remove the police department from the control of the interior department, the two having heretofore been under the direction of the minister of the interior. The change involves the creation of a new minister.

DEATH OF THE GREAT MIND READER.

Washington Irving Bishop Suddenly Dies of Hysterical Catalepsy.

New York, May 14.—Washington Irving Bishop, the mind reader, died shortly after noon Monday, at the Lambs' club, 34 West Thirty-sixth street, of hysterical catalepsy.

He was giving an exhibition of his well known powers at the dinner following the monthly "Gambol" club Sunday night, at which Clay M. Green, the dramatist presided and many well known actors were present. Mr. Bishop was seized with catalepsy.

The famous mind reader had come from Philadelphia as the guest of the club, and was asked during the dinner to illustrate his power of psychology. He had performed his well known dagger feat, which he concluded by pretending to stab Louis Aldrich, the actor, who occupied one of the seats at the table. Subsequently Mr. Bishop requested Mr. Green to think of a word he, Bishop, would name it by placing his hand on Green's forehead. Before he could conclude the feat the mind reader was seized with catalepsy. Dr. Drinn was called and pronounced the attack hysterical catalepsy. Mr. Bishop was removed to an upper room and fifteen minutes later put to bed.

He recovered shortly and persisted in concluding his mind reading feat. He did so, and while in the act, at 4 a. m., he was again stricken with spasms and after that began sinking. Drs. Lees and Irvin resorted with him all night. He expired a little after 12 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Around his bedside at his death were C. W. Palmer, Dr. Irvin, W. C. Stewart, Bert Thomas, John Ritchie, Clay Green and J. W. Thomas. With a view of prolonging life electrical batteries were applied to his feet but to no purpose. His wife and mother were notified of his death and his body removed to an undertaker's establishment in Sixth avenue.

Would-Be Lynchers Foiled.

LA CROSSE, Wis., May 14.—Paul Kuss, a young man employed on the farm of Arthur Tripp, near this city, attempted to assault Mrs. Tripp during her husband's absence. The lady eluded her assailant, and ran to the house of John Johnson, a neighbor, who overtook Kuss and handed him in jail here. At 1:30 o'clock last night the farmers and residents of the town of Campbell, to the number of 200, surrounded the jail and demanded the prisoner, intending to lynch him. The sheriff was fully aware of their intention, and had quietly removed the prisoner to safe quarters some two or three hours previously. When the crowd became aware of this they quietly dispersed.

Didn't Keep Their Distance.

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 14.—At a dance Saturday night on Twin creek, about twelve miles below this city, several rough characters were in attendance, among them Wilson and Amos Cooper, brothers, and Henry Nickels. The latter had several quarrels with the Cooper boys and had warned them to keep their distance. Later they had another clash and hot words were passed between them, followed by two revolver shots in quick succession. The Cooper boys fell dead to the floor, and an examination showed that Wilson Cooper had been shot through the heart and Amos through the left temple. Nickels, who did the shooting, is a Virginian.

The Chinese Must Go

Scott's Exclusion Law Declared Constitutional.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

The United States Circuit Court of California and the Validity of the Law Sustained—All Deserters from the United States Army to Be Pardoned by the President—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The case of Charles E. Ping, in a suit brought to test the constitutionality of the Scott Chinese exclusion law, was decided yesterday by the supreme court. This was an appeal from the United States circuit court of California. The appellant was a resident of the United States and under a previous law he obtained from the collector of the port at San Francisco a certificate granting him the right to visit China and return to the United States. During his absence from the country the Scott law was enacted, and under its provisions his certificate was cancelled. He brought suit against the collector at San Francisco to compel him to honor it.

The supreme court affirmed the validity of the law. The opinion recites the different treaties between the United States and China. The legislation of congress, the effect of Chinese labor upon California, the competition between them and American laborers and the disturbances following from their presence, the laws of congress of 1882 and 1884, requiring to evidence of former residence from China laborers who left the country and sought to return. It considers and affirms the power of congress to abrogate a treaty, citing authorities of the courts on the subject, holding that the propriety of such action is not a matter for judicial cognizance, but that it is a matter for the political department, the power of congress to exclude aliens from the country whose presence is inimical to our interests, and recites declaration on that subject of the different secretaries of state. It examines at length and answers the various objections to the legislation. The opinion of the court is unanimous.

The supreme court also rendered a decision in one branch of the celebrated Myra Clarke Gaines litigation. A suit was brought by Mrs. Gaines some years ago for an amount approximating $2,000,000. The income derived by the city of New Orleans from the property willed her by her father, the title to which was for a long time in dispute, and for about $500,000 interest on this income. On the death of Mrs. Gaines in 1885, the prosecution of this suit was continued by her heirs. A judgment was expected more than two years ago, but the decision of the court has been delayed. The court has affirmed the judgment of the lower court as far as it related to the income from the improved property, $576,777 and interest, but disallowed that part of the judgment awarding $1,348,000 for revenue on the unimproved property.

Deserters All to Be Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—It is probable that the president will issue a proclamation, granting pardons to all deserters from the United States army, whether under confinement or at large. Senator Plumb has urged this action on him for some time, and it is rumored that the proclamation will soon be forthcoming. President Grant, in 1873, granted pardons to all deserters from the army and navy. Since that time 40,800 enlisted men in the army alone have deserted, and only about 8,000 of these have been captured. The pardoning of these will save the government the great expense constantly entailed in capturing those at large and convicting them.

Secretary Proctor evidently favors the plan. He has ordered the release of numerous deserters confined in the military prison.

The Commissioners Organize.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The civil service commission organized yesterday by electing Commissioner Lyman president of the commission. All the commissioners were present, Commissioner Roosevelt qualifying just before. Judges Cooley, Morrison and Bragg, members of the interstate commerce commission, left to-day for Titusville, Pa., where they will give a hearing in the Pennsylvania oil cases on the 16th and 17th instants. The commission will also hold a session in Toledo, O., on the 24th instant and later in Chicago.

Twigg's Sword Case Decided.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The court of claims has decided the Twigg's sword case in favor of Myers, the executor of Gen. Twigg's estate sold, and against Mrs. Rowena Guedella. The court holds that the transmission of the sword to Mrs. Guedella when Gen. Twigg left New Orleans was merely in the nature of a temporary deposit and not a gift. The three swords are now at the bureau of engraving and printing.

Public Printer Palmer in Charge.

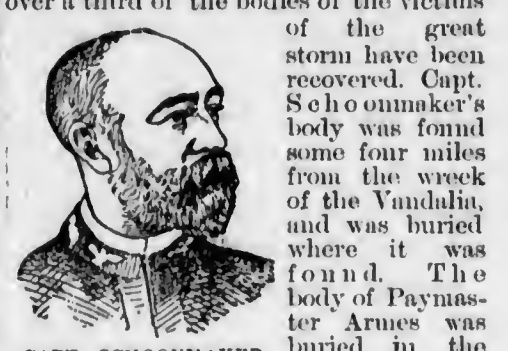

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Public Printer Palmer took charge of the great government printing office here yesterday

VICTIMS OF THE SAMOAN WRECK.

Not More Than One-Third of the Bodies Have Yet Been Recovered.

SAMOA, April 27.—Up to this time not over a third of the bodies of the victims of the great storm have been recovered. Capt. Schoonmaker's body was found some four miles from the wreck of the Vandalia, and was buried where it was found. The body of Paymaster Ames was buried in the back yard of Capt. Hamilton's house. Paymaster Roche's body was recovered about a mile from the Vandalia. Lieut. Sutton's body has not been recovered.

The bodies of nearly all the men belonging to the German galleon Eber are still imprisoned in the wreck. Two deaths have taken place in the hospital, which increases the number of victims to 148.

The natives have made a number of demonstrations recently in honor of Admiral Kimberly. April 11, 2,000 warriors and one hundred women and children held a grand review before the admiral's house, and the women and chiefs danced.

The German consul, Dr. Knappe, still recognizes a state of war between the Germans and Samoans, and asserts that a large force of troops from Germany may arrive at any moment. This is believed to be all bluster on the part of Knappe. It was subsequently learned that one of Mataafa's chiefs called on him with regard to the truth of these utterances, and informed the consul that if war was to be continued the Mataafa men did not propose to await the convenience of the Germans but would begin hostilities at once. Dr. Knappe assured Mataafa's minion that he was incorrectly quoted. After the conference of the American naval officers with Mataafa and Tammose, with a view to obtaining the consent of both chiefs to peace, Admiral Kimberly and the American consul called on Knappe with regard to the matter. The latter declared he would approve of any arrangement to stop the fighting. On April 3, a report was current that Tammose was conducting a descent on Mataafa's troops during a review of the latter in Apia. Tammose's camp was narrowly watched, but none of that warrior's followers ventured forth.

TUESDAY, MAY 14, 1889.

Mr. CHARLES B. POYTZ will be the nominee of the convention this afternoon for State Senator. And he will be the next Senator.

MISSOURI has adopted the Australian system of voting.—Maysville Republican.
Missouri by the way is a Democratic State. The Democrats believe in a free ballot and a fair count.

The new steel cruiser Charleston is a runner from 'way back, one of the fastest on the seas. This is another of the results of the Democratic administration, says the Courier-Journal.

BOURBON COUNTY Republicans have nominated Squire B. F. Harris for County Judge, and George B. Alexander, teller of the Paris Northern Bank, for Representative to the General Assembly.

UNLESS an old soldier is a Republican he doesn't stand any show with Harrison and his henchmen at Washington City. Veterans who wore the blue and who "fought and bled for their country" are being fired daily.

CORPORAL TANNER may not have "sit down in office" to wage warfare on those employes thereof "who, like himself, wore the blue," but he is doing it all the same. Evidently he thinks that a Democrat "who wore the blue" is no better than one who wore the grey.

THE Cincinnati Commercial Gazette can do the square thing when it wants to. Its New York correspondent in referring to the military parade at the recent Centennial says: "Ohio and Kentucky marched in line, and Kentucky led the Buckeye State. The great scene of the parade occurred when Kentucky and Ohio came along, with Foraker leading the Buckeyes. In front of him was the Louisville Legion, which was a beautiful organization. Next to it came the Forest City Troop, of Cleveland, and the two together, in striking contrast, formed the most brilliant spectacle of the day. Nothing finer in a military way was seen in the country than the spectacle presented by the marching of the Louisville Legion and the riding of the Cleveland City Troop."

OUR NEIGHBORS.

ORANGEBURG.

The candidates are still showing themselves around here.

The meeting is still going on, but think it will close this week.

Miss Mary Stubbinsfield, of Rector, is spending a few days with Miss Mary B. Ross and attending the meeting.

HELENA.

John Hughes was in Lewis County last week.

Robert G. Wood and wife were in Maysville Friday.

Thomas Luttrell, from near Maysville, was here Thursday.

James O'Malley sold his tobacco last week to Wm. Collins for 1 cent.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison has been visiting relatives near Oranburg.

Dr. Dougherty, of Maysville, paid our town a short visit a few days since.

Master Lucien Miner and sister, Etta Graham, were the guests of Mrs. Johnson the past week.

Messrs. Dan Roe, Wm. E. Ry and William Montgomery leave for Shelbyville Tuesday morning on the K. C., where they will work at the carpenter's trade for several weeks.

BLUE LICK SPRINGS.

The fishing and hunting season are on here. Silver perch, trout, channel cat and buffalo perch are catchable with proper bait and "the hole" well baited. Will write again when society is in the swim.

The German gardener, Wetzenberg, is here with spade and hoe and plow, and his growth of early vegetables is surprising, considering the drought. He uses all the new methods and has a soil that never bakes.

A St. Louis visitor is here, late of Hot Springs, Ark., and is experienced in great relief from cutaneous and kidney troubles. He was hermetically sealed by his physician on leaving the springs, but the pores got open and he took cold en route home, and he had to come here for the benefit of these waters.

Our Desha Valley reporter spent a quiet Sunday at Blue Lick Springs and posted the Bulletin the following pertinent paragraphs personal and pleasant: "After dining at the 'Pavilion,' reinforced by sandy draughts of genuine blue lick water, (Prohibition town), we strolled over to the Arlington and were regaled at Seneca club, after 'the Assyrian' came down like a wolf on the fold."

"And there lay the hostelry all shapely and pale, With sun on its step and paint on its tail. And the chambers were all silent, the chimneys alone, The bath-rooms unlifted, the ball-room unblown."

but this picture of desolation will soon 'melt like snow in the glance' of the paint and whitewash brush now in use and the merry throngs of visitors in purple and gold that are looked for from the 1st of July to September 15. The Pavilion, late La Re, is under the supervision of E. C. Hawkins & Co., Miss Fannie Little, of Lexington, hostess. Mr. Robert Sparks, retiring partner, is at the old Overby stand in general merchandise. Like the gates of gospel grace, this hotel is open all the year round. Will have a grand hop and spend June 1st, opening for the reception of guests.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.

What a Representative of the Bulletin Has to Say Concerning the Institution and the Care of Its Inmates.

Having read a great deal in the papers about infirmaries and poor houses of other States, and never having been to our institution, a representative of the BULLETIN recently visited the Mason County Infirmary. He found it an interesting place, and one which the county has cause to be proud of.

It is situated above Maysville on the Ohio river. The farm contains about 137½ acres, 85 acres of which are upland pasture, and the balance bottom land suitable for garden and farming purposes. On the right of the road, as you go out, is the pasture, well watered and shaded, and well fenced. Our attention was here called to a gate well modeled and proportioned, made by one of the inmates of the institution, who is said to be quite a carpenter and does much work about the place. There were nineteen head of cattle and thirty-five hogs on the place. Beside the infirmary stock the pasture is rented, bringing $2.50 per month per head for cows, and $3 per month for horses, thus furnishing a source of income for the institution. We saw upon the premises some fifteen fine horses, which are in training by Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, whose reputation as a breeder of fine stock is fast extending beyond the limits of the State. The infirmary stock is in good condition, the hogs being especially of fine breeds—Poland China and Berkshire.

The farm is in a high state of cultivation for the character of the ground, being planted in corn, oats, potatoes, &c., which are all in good condition, and with a fair season must yield excellent crops. The gardens are well laid out and planted with cabbage, peas and all the usually cultivated vegetables. The peas are in bloom and the entire garden crop is in better condition than others along the road. The hot-beds exhibited a fine display of early plants sufficient not only for the use of the farm but for distribution. Besides, there are planted large patches of watermelons, cateloupes and quite a little acreage of tobacco for the use of the inmates, showing that to some extent they will enjoy the luxuries of the summer season.

The out-buildings are ample and in good condition, the pig and hog pens lately built being especially noticeable, and would be models for any farmer. All the outbuildings are kept scrupulously clean and well whitewashed, many improvements having been made by the present Superintendent, and more being in prospect. The buildings proper for the occupation of the inmates consist of eight commodious and tasteful double cottages, arranged in the shape of a hollow square around the Superintendent's house, which is in the center. The cottages are all clean and neat, as are the entire premises. During the past year, the Superintendent has made many durable improvements about the premises. Two floors have been torn out and replaced to the main building, more than one hundred panels of excellent picket fence have been built, also some new plank fences, and there has been placed in the yard an excellent driven well and force pump, thus materially adding to the supply of water and invaluable in case of fire.

John Ryan, present Superintendent, took charge of the place in May, 1888. There were then thirty-seven inmates; there are now fifty-two, twenty-five having been received during the past year, all of them colored. During this time homes have been found for six boys, former inmates. Of the inmates, thirteen are State charges, paying to the institution $5 per year. Mr. Nelson Whitaker, the former Superintendent, is commuttee for eleven of these, Mr. Ryan for two.

All the inmates who are able work upon the premises, doing the gardening, farming, cooking, washing, shoe mending, carpentering, stock feeding, and nearly all necessary labor, there being but one hired hand employed. The inmates are all comfortably clothed in jeans, cotton and calico, with all needed underclothing of flannel, cotton and linen. The bed rooms are well furnished with all the necessary quilts, blankets and comforts, and are comfortable in all sorts of weather. Additional queensware, cutlery, carpeting and furniture have been supplied by the present Superintendent.

The BULLETIN man witnessed the eating of the people at supper and breakfast in the large dining room, and was surprised at the quantity, quality and variety of the food furnished. There was excellent meat, hot bread, tea, coffee, milk, sugar, molasses, potatoes and other vegetables. The cooking was superior, the tables and ware perfectly clean and there are many, very many, people in the county to-day, who fail to sit down daily to such meals as these.

It takes about thirty pounds of meat to feed the inmates—some $8.00 pounds a year. Most of this is excellent bacon fattened and cured upon the premises, but fresh meat is also furnished during the season, as the health and requirements of the inmates demand. Everything about the establishment denotes the care and industry of our most excellent and industrious Superintendent and indicates that while the interests of the county are well looked to, the comfort of the inmates is amply provided for by one whose humanity is equal to his industry. This paper would be incomplete, did it fail to note, on every side, the evidences of a woman's careful attention and kindly hand manifested all about the premises. This will strike any visitor. A great deal of the efficiency of the management and comfort of the establishment is due to the active exertions of Mrs. Ryan, the intelligent, industrious, kind and polite wife of the Superintendent. She is always looking after the comfort of the people. Every cottage contains some evidence of her care. She has introduced many improvements about the interior management, insuring added comfort and cleanliness. Among other things noticed in the well-kept cellar, something new in the way of a milk rack, affording perfect security for milk and batter against flies and other insects. The idea of this was brought by Mrs. Ryan from Ireland, and is well worthy of general adoption.

The age of the inmates varies from earliest childhood to old men and women verging on an hundred years. I talked to most of them, and they all seemed contented and happy. Those at work take pleasure in the employment of their time. The aged sit about in peaceful content, smoking their pipes. In front of the orchard on the river bank are a number of comfortable seats, and it does one good to see the old men and women, comfortably clad, sitting together there in silent content, smoking, watching the placid river, inhaling the breezes, or awakening into active conversation at the sight of a passing steamer and so in old age receiving some compensation for the miseries of an earlier life, which, perhaps, without their fault reduced them to poverty. Surely, no county in the State has a better managed institution than this one, nor are the poor any better taken care of. This should be a source of pride to our people, who should take an interest in it, visit it more frequently and give it all the aid they can, remembering in so doing we are obeying the command of Him, "Who for our sakes became poor," who commended "charity" and "the cup of cold water" given aright, and who shortly before He left confided unfortunates to christian care in the memorable words: "The poor ye have always with you."

Resolutions in Reference to Rev. Russell Cecil.

At the meeting of the ministers of this city last evening at the home of Rev. D. A. Beardsley, the following was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Rev. Russell Cecil, of the Central Presbyterian Church of this city, with whom we have been pleasantly associated in ministerial labors for the past three years and a half, has been called to labor in a distant city, therefore Resolved, While we recognize the call of duty in this case, and with the light we have we do not believe Brother Cecil could have conscientiously declined the call to this new field of labor, yet we deeply regret his loss from our midst, where both in social and ministerial life we found him a pleasant companion.

Resolved, That we cordially commend him to the unqualified confidence of the ministerial brethren in the city to which he has gone and to the Christian people with whom he is called to reside.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the papers of this city and a copy sent to Brother Cecil.

Bishop, the Mind Reader, Dead.

Washington Irving Bishop, the famous mind reader, died yesterday afternoon in New York, of hysterical catlepsy. Bishop was at Lexington a few months since and created great excitement by his wonderful feats, the most remarkable being the finding of a needle hid by a committee of citizens within one mile of the hotel where the mind reader was stopping. While performing the feat at another city shortly after leaving Lexington he went into a cataleptic condition which resulted finally in his death.

THE FARMERS' HOME MUTUAL.

The Association Doing a Good Work. Increase of Business the Past Year.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association of this county was held yesterday in the office of Squire Jacob Miller.

Mr. James B. Key was elected President for the ensuing year and Mr. James E. Cahill was re-elected Secretary.

At the annual meeting in 1888 the association had 443 members, the insurance amounting to $623,495. During the year there was a net increase in the membership of 39, giving the company 482 members at this date. The increase in the insurance during the past year was $22,659, making the risks now assumed by the association amount to $636,154.

The business of the company is steadily increasing. The association is undoubtedly doing a good work for the farmers.

There was but one assessment the past year, and that was ten cents on the $100. This makes but fifteen assessments since the association was organized, the total assessments amounting to $266 on the $100, and averaging 29 5-9 cents a year on the $100.

The Secretary in his report says that allowing one-half of the property insured for dwellings, and the other half for barns, at the average rate of 29 5-9 cents on the $100, and taking the lowest rate in any other company, and the association has saved its members $11,520 a year in cost of insurance—$4,014 on dwellings and $7,506 on barns, the saving since the organization of the association amounting to $597.95.

The losses paid the past year amounted to $1,022.

Some new rules were adopted in regard to the dropping of delinquent members, and the payment of partial losses. An order was also made requiring notice of assessment to be published in the newspapers.

The Journeymen Tailors' Protective Union.

The tailors of Maysville have organized a Journeymen Tailors' Protective Union. This union is connected with the National Union and was organized, it is said, for the mutual protection and aid of its members, and not for the purpose of creating strikes or trouble of any kind. The election of officers last night resulted in the choice of H. Mergard, Jr., for President, A. Frankel for Vice President, Otto B. Rinnier for Treasurer and Geo. Michelsen for Secretary.

Notice to Members of the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association

Members of the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association are hereby notified that an assessment of 20 cents on the $100 insured has been made to pay loss of A. Honan on barn destroyed May 4th, 1889, and also to pay Secretary's salary for past year. Ordered by Executive Board. Be prompt in paying.

The Republicans of the great State of Pennsylvania don't want any ballot reform in theirs. Nearly every Knights of Labor assembly in that State petitioned the recent Legislature to pass a ballot reform bill, but to no effect. And there isn't a State in the Union where such a reform is needed more than in Pennsylvania.

The body of Geo. Brooks, colored, one of the six occupants of the flat-boat who were drowned above Ripley last December, was found at Higginsport yesterday. The father of the boy recognized the body by the clothing. Squire Walther held an inquest and decided that death was caused by accidental drowning. Five dollars in money and a razor were found in the pockets. Brooks was a son of Peyton Brooks, who lives near Tuckahoe.

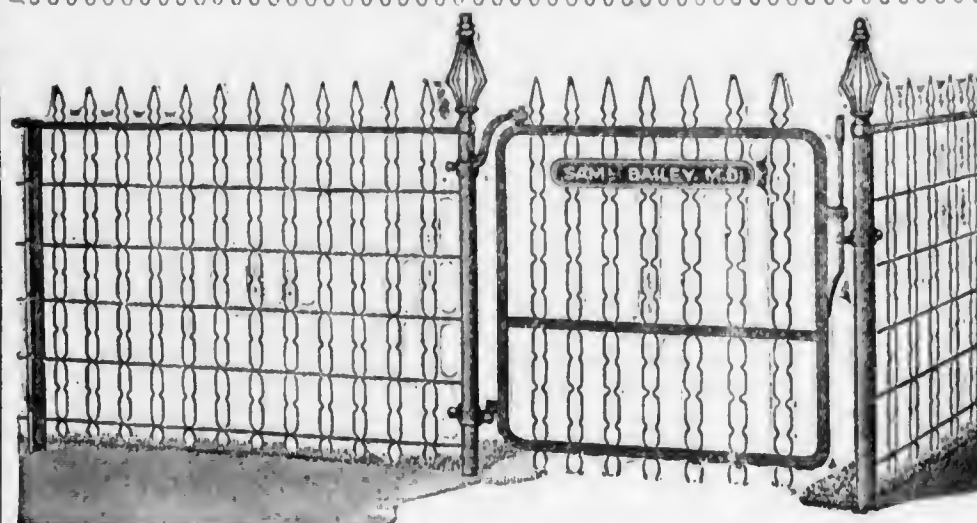

Ladies' Styles.

[New York World.]

To be worn with the black lace gown are summer cloaks of lace as expensive as the dress itself, and almost as elaborate. The full long widths of lace are plaited into a collar of jetted silk, caught again at the waist and then fall straight to the foot. The skirts of the cloak fall free, while the waist is usually lined with silk. There is a sleeve that fits the arm to the wrist, and another which falls open angle-wise to the hem. A few of these cloaks are made after the pattern of the Connemara, with heavy jet ornaments about the shoulders.

Methodist Bishops.

They Are to Meet To-Day at Delaware, Ohio.

OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

Names of the Seventeen Bishops Who Will Probably Be Present to Lay Out the Important Work of the Enslaving Year. Why Delaware Was Selected for This Event.

DELAWARE, O., May 14.—This beautiful little city is to be honored this week by a visit from the Methodist Episcopal bishops of the United States, who hold their annual business meeting here, beginning the 14th. It has always been the custom of this influential body to hold their meetings in Bishop Bowman, some large city, the last meeting having been held in New York city. The citizens of Delaware feel that a high compliment has been

BISHOP BOWMAN, some large city, the last meeting having been held in New York city. The citizens of Delaware feel that a high compliment has been paid them. Doubtless, the fact that the famous college of the Methodist Episcopal church is located here had something to do with its being selected in preference to more pretentious cities.

They meet here to arrange and lay out their most important work for the ensuing year, such as fixing the time and place for holding the domestic and foreign conferences, selecting which bishops shall preside at each of the conferences, etc.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL BISHOPS.
Nearly all of the seventeen bishops are expected to be here during this meeting, which will last several days, and perhaps more than a week. Bishop Taylor, the missionary bishop for Africa, and one or two others will possibly not attend. Of the present incumbents no one has served over nineteen years. Those who have filled this term of years are Thomas Bowman, who is the senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church; Randolph S. Foster, Stephen M. Merrill and Edward G. Andrews; those who have served a less time are Henry W. Warren, Cyrus D. Foss and John F. Hurst, nine years, and William X. Nide, John M. Walden, Willard F. Mallahan, Charles H. Fowler and William Taylor, five years. Bishops Vincent, Fitzgerald, Joyce, Newman and Goodsell were elected last year. Since 1872 twenty-one bishops have been elected, and five of them have died—a little less than a fourth of the whole number.

DOUBLE CRIMES.

Three Cases Where Husbands Killed Their Wives and Themselves.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 14.—George Ward, a night engineer at the Memphis gas works, shot and killed his wife yesterday and then turned the pistol on himself. After firing two ineffectual shots he sent a bullet through his temple and died. Mrs. Ward left her husband shortly after their marriage last January, and it was her determined refusal to return to him that caused the tragedy.

Same Crime With a Knife.

FOX DU LAC, Wis., May 14.—George Loomis, a farmer of the town of Oseola, a few miles east of this city, cut his wife's throat this morning and then his own with a common pocket knife. Both died instantly. Loomis had been insane for some time, but he had only showed symptoms of the malady for a few days. A 16-year-old daughter was sent to a neighbor's house, and upon her return both parents were dead.

And Another One.

DENVER, Col., May 14.—Fred. Medley, proprietor of the Pueblo house, shot and killed his wife yesterday, because she refused to give him money with which to buy beer. He was drunk at the time. He attempted to escape but was arrested.

Much Work for Railway Managers.

CHICAGO, May 14.—A large number of important railroad meetings will be held this week. On Tuesday the regular monthly meeting of the Western Freight association will take place, and on Wednesday the passenger department of the Central Traffic association will convene, followed on Thursday by the regular monthly meeting of the Central freight committee. On Thursday the general managers' committee of the Interstate Railway association will hold its second monthly meeting, and on Friday the Ohio river committee of the Central Traffic association will meet with the Chesapeake and Ohio representatives in Cincinnati.

Death Sentence Pronounced.

BEAVERIDGE, N. J., May 14.—Michael Bolak, the Hungarian murderer, was sentenced yesterday by Chief Justice Beasley, to be hanged July 16. Before sentence was passed he was asked if he had anything to say. He replied: "As the jury please." After the sentence he stated to the court that he would prefer to have the sentence changed to imprisonment for life. He was informed that this was impossible. Bolak killed Michael Bollins, an Oxford, a friend, to obtain his money, about $80.

Cable Car Wrecked.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—The brake on a dummy of the front street cable railway at Seattle failed to work last night and the car run down grade at great speed and was thrown from the track at a turn, pitching the passengers out on the pavement and causing the death of Mrs. Sophronia Wagner, of Chadwick, Neb. Mrs. Wagner's 5-year-old child was severely injured, and several other persons were badly hurt.

No Place for Matches.

NORFOLK, Va., May 14.—Sparheis' gasoline establishment and a barrel factory adjoining, with four horses, were burned here this morning. The fire originated in the gasoline factory where a small boy threw a match on the floor, causing an explosion and starting the fire. The boy who caused the mischief and a companion had their legs literally roasted from their knees down. Damage about $20,000.

Miners' Troubles Settled.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—The differences which resulted in the late strike of the miners of the Springfield district were adjusted yesterday, at a joint meeting of miners and operators. It was agreed that the price to be paid for mining from May 11 to October 1, 1899, should be fifty-five cents per ton, all mines to have a check weighman to be paid through the office, and a seven-eighths inch screen.

The Body Identified.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The body of the young woman found drowned at Stapleton, L. I., has been identified as that of Miss Mary E. Tobin, of Franklin, Pa. She left New Brighton April 15 for Franklin. It is supposed she committed suicide.

Carpenters' Wages Increased.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 14.—A special from Sharon, Pa., says: The wages of all the carpenters in this place were advanced 10 per cent. yesterday. A demand for the increase was made a month ago by the carpenters' and joiners' union.

Governor Hill's Veto.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—Governor Hill vetoed the Saxton electoral reform bill last night on the ground of unconstitutionality and because of certain defects which he thinks it contains.

Simon Cameron Out of Danger.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 14.—The condition of Gen. Simon Cameron is said to be much better to-day, and his friends anticipate his early and complete recovery.
